BOSTON, MA – November 19, 2024 — Leerink Partners, a leading investment bank specializing in healthcare, is pleased to announce the addition of Holden Hodgson as Senior Managing Director, Derivatives. Mr. Hodgson will be based in the firm’s Boston office and will report to Adam Futterman, Head of Derivatives.

“We are excited to welcome Holden to our platform. His deep expertise in the derivatives markets and proven track record make him a valuable addition to our team,” said Adam Futterman. “He shares our deep commitment to clients, and we are confident that he will be instrumental in driving the Firm’s strategic initiatives forward.”

Holden Hodgson joins Leerink Partners with over two decades of experience in equity derivatives, having served as Executive Director, Derivative Sales at Morgan Stanley & Co. In this role, he was responsible for growing market share with a diverse group of institutional client relationships by providing a wide array of customized derivative solutions. Prior to his sixteen-year tenure at Morgan Stanley, Mr. Hodgson was Vice President of Derivative Sales at Credit Suisse and a Floor Broker at CBOE.

“I look forward to joining the incredibly talented team of derivative experts at Leerink Partners and leveraging my experience in the space to help drive the Firm forward,” said Mr. Hodgson. “With the continued evolution of global markets, I look forward to collaborating with the team to strengthen our position and deliver innovative solutions that create long-term value for our clients and partners.”
